

Ingredients 4 Portions

🖊 = Kotányi Produkte

400 g Chicken fillet300 g Couscous450 ml Water

1 piece Red bell pepper

4 piece Tomatoes, on the vine

40 g Parsley, fresh

20 g Fresh mint

1 piece Lemon, unwaxed

1 piece Red onion, small

150 g Jogurt, greek

2 tbsp.

✓ Curry Madras

1 pinch

Sea Salt, Coarse

1 pinch Pepper Black, Whole

Sesame oil

Wooden skewers

Herb Tabbouleh with Spicy Chicken Skewers

Ō 40-45 Min ♀♀♀

Preparation

- 1 Rinse the chicken fillets and dab with paper towel. Use a knife to trim the fillets if necessary, then dice them into pieces around 2-cm thick. Bring water to the boil in a pan or kettle.
- 2 Marinate the cut chicken breast in yoghurt, 1/2 lemon juice, the zest of 1/2 a lemon, 1 teaspoon salt and Curry Madras.
- 3 Squeeze the juice of the lemon into a large bowl and mix with a large pinch of salt, freshly ground pepper and 4 tbsp. of olive oil.
- 4 Peel the onion, finely dice and add to the bowl. Add the couscous, then mix everything in the bowl thoroughly and pour in the hot water. Allow the couscous to infuse, breaking it up with a fork every now and then.
- 5 Wash and finely dice the vine tomatoes and bell pepper. Rinse and chop the parsley and mint. Mix the vegetables and herbs into the cooked couscous. Season to taste with olive oil, salt and pepper.
- 6 Spear the pieces of chicken breast onto small skewers and sear in a pan with 1 tbsp. of oil on all sides for 3–4 minutes.
- 7 Dish up the cooked tabbouleh and serve with the chicken skewers.

